Not Independent

More4Life Financial Services may receive commissions associated with the issue of life insurance products.

For this reason, we do not represent ourselves as independent, impartial, or unbiased.

Who we are and what we stand for

Since 1989 James Walker-Powell has been working with, and being referred by, successful men and women who see us as their financial future facilitator.

Over this time, we have come to realise that to give you the best advice and service, we needed to obtain our own Australian Financial Services License which we obtained in November 2007. That decision means real benefits for you. You can rest assured that you are getting the most objective advice possible. This is because we are not owned by a large Financial Institution who controls what products to provide. We can be totally unprejudiced, which allows us to completely focus on your individual needs.

Do you live to make money, or make money to live?

Like all of our clients, you will probably see us as experts who primarily help you with your financial arrangements. However, we feel that our unique approach is so much more than that. We take a holistic view of your life. We believe that your money affects everything that is most important in your life – your family, your health, your work, and your leisure. The truth is, if you have a balance in all these areas, you are more likely to be financially successful.

Our unique process creates a comprehensive framework to help you realise your goals and objectives.

Our responsibility

Your adviser provides financial advice and services on behalf of More4Life Financial Services and accordingly we are responsible for the financial advice and services they provide.

Our advisers are committed to providing quality financial advice and a wide choice of products and/or services to suit individual client circumstances.

Your adviser is obliged by law to act in your best interests and provide appropriate advice, when providing financial advice to you.

Financial advisers are required to comply with the Financial Planners and Advisers Codes of Ethics.

The adviser profile

Prior to providing any personalised financial advice products and/or services our advisers are required to provide you with a copy of this FSG along with an Adviser Profile.

The Adviser Profile contains important information about your adviser. This includes their Authorised Representative number and/or Corporate Authorised Representative number (if applicable), accreditations, qualifications and experience, areas of advice and types of financial services they can provide, details of how they get paid and fees that they may charge. The Adviser Profile is included in this FSG - see page 15.

Documents you may receive

If you decide to obtain personal financial advice, your adviser will need to determine your needs, objectives, and relevant financial circumstances.

At the initial advice appointment, your adviser will typically gather the relevant information by using a client data collection form. You will be asked to provide accurate information about your personal and financial situation and keep your adviser informed of any changes to your relevant circumstances.

Your adviser will also need to verify your identity.

When your adviser provides personal financial advice to you, you may receive one or more of the following documents:

- Letter of Engagement
- Statement of Advice (SoA)
- Record of Advice (RoA)
- Product Disclosure Statement (PDS)
- Fee Disclosure Statement (FDS)
- Renewal Notice

The SoA will set out the advice that has been tailored to your specific circumstances and provide you with details of all relevant disclosures including details of any remuneration payable.

Where you receive ongoing or further advice a RoA may be provided.

A PDS will be provided if a product recommendation is made and includes detailed information on the financial product including features, benefits, conditions, costs and cooling off rights (if applicable).

An FDS will be issued to you in instances where you enter into an Ongoing Fee Arrangement with your adviser for a period greater than 12 months. The FDS will contain information about the services you were entitled to receive, the services you actually received and the fees you paid during the period. The FDS will be provided to you annually.

Should you commence an ongoing fee arrangement for the first time after 1 July 2013 (or in circumstances where the ongoing fee arrangement is significantly varied after 1 July 2013), your adviser will also issue a Renewal Notice every 2 years. The Renewal Notice will give you the option of renewing the ongoing fee arrangement.

You may request in writing a copy of any advice document up to seven (7) years after the advice has been given.

How to give instructions

Your adviser may accept your instructions by phone, letter, or email. In some instances, your Adviser can only accept written instructions from you, and they will let you know when this occurs.

Your privacy

Your adviser is required to maintain physical or electronic records of documentation for any financial advice given to you, including information that personally identifies you and/or contains information about you.

These records are required to be retained for at least seven (7) years. If you want to access your personal information at any time, please let us know.

You have the right to not to provide personal information to your adviser. However, in this case, your adviser will warn you about the possible consequences and how this may impact on the quality of the advice provided. Additionally, your adviser may also decline to provide advice if they feel they have insufficient information to proceed.

More4Life Financial Services respects your privacy and is committed to protecting and maintaining the security of the personal and financial information you provide us. For detailed information on how we handle your personal information, please see our Privacy Policy.

How we are paid

Adviser remuneration

The cost of providing a financial product or service to you will depend on the nature and complexity of the advice, financial product and/or service provided. Generally, whenever your adviser provides a recommendation for a financial product or service, your adviser may be remunerated through either:

- An initial fee for service; or
- An ongoing fee for service; or
- A contribution fee or implementation fee; or
- Insurance commission; or
- A combination of any of the above.

Prior to preparing any advice or providing financial services to you, we will discuss and agree upon all fees that will apply.

All fees or commissions are initially paid to More4Life Financial Services.

Licensee remuneration

More4Life Financial Services does not receive a fee of the adviser's remuneration for the provision of services required under its Australian Financial Services Licence.

Referrals

Should you be referred to your adviser by a third party, such as an Accountant or Mortgage Broker, the third party may receive a fee for the referral. You will receive more detailed information concerning any referral fee in your SoA or other relevant document.

Full details of all fees, brokerage, commissions, or other benefits that we or any other related party receive as a result of recommendations to you will be provided in the Statement of Advice document.

Other forms of remuneration or benefits

More4Life Financial Services and/or its advisers may receive non-monetary benefits where:

- The amount is less than $300 and identical or similar benefits are not given on a frequent basis; or
- The benefit has a genuine education or training purpose (including attendance to conferences) and is relevant to providing financial product advice; or
- The benefit consists of the provision of information technology software or support and is related to the provision of financial product advice in relation to the financial products issued or sold by the benefit provider

Payments or benefits received are disclosed in a register. A copy of the register is available upon request.

Related companies

Neither your Adviser nor the Licensee have any association or relationship with the issuers of financial products that might reasonably be expected to be capable of influencing them in the provision of financial services.

Fee schedule

Our Fee Schedule is designed to ensure flexibility and assumes a long-term relationship that you will consistently see value in. Our fees may be tax deductible; significantly reducing the cost of ensuring your portfolio is correctly positioned to meet your longer-term objectives.

Like any business, we want to grow and be profitable. We believe the services we offer are valuable and the remuneration received is a fair reward for our expertise and skills. We are committed to being open about any benefits or payments we receive and the costs you will incur for using our services:

- We charge fees for our initial advice, its implementation, ongoing monitoring, and review.
- We may also charge fees for other advice or services, which fall outside the scope of those above.
- Further details about our fees are contained in our Fee Schedule, which forms part of this FSG.
- No fees are payable unless you have instructed us to proceed with the provision of advice and services by signing our Letter of Engagement.
- All fees charged by us, and any brokerage or commissions paid by product providers (total remuneration) are receivable by More4Life Financial Services as the AFS Licensee.
- If you purchase or retain a life insurance policy on our recommendation, we may receive commission payments from the insurer who issues the policy. There are a number of ways these payments can be structured. Insurers currently offer commission payments of up to 66% of the first year's premium and up to 22% for subsequent years (inclusive of GST) over the life of the policy. For example, on an insurance premium of $1,000 paying 66% initial commission and 22% on-going commission, the upfront commission would be $660 and the ongoing commission $220 per year.

First appointment

Our initial consultation will introduce you to our unique 'More4Life' process, clarifying information provided by you in the 'About You Questionnaire' and examine your immediate needs by commencing the compilation of the 'More4Life Workbook'. This process establishes the framework for future advice.

The duration of the initial appointment is approximately one and a half hours and at the conclusion of this appointment you will have a clear understanding if you wish to engage our services.

We will then further articulate our discussions by sending you our 'Value Creator Letter'. The letter will summarise the key points of our discussion and identify some initial strategies and solutions. It will then propose some immediate actions to set you on your path to achieving your goals.

The cost for the summary together with the 'More4Life' workbook is $550 inclusive of GST. Should you wish to engage our firm to prepare a Statement of Advice the $550 will be rebated from the cost of the Statement of Advice. In certain circumstances we may waive the fee for the first appointment; this will be indicated in our initial letter to you.

Managed Discretionary Account (MDA)

We offer a Managed Discretionary Account Service (MDA) where you allow us to manage your investments for you, using our discretion and without obtaining your instructions before each transaction we undertake on your behalf. These services are limited to investments as agreed with you prior to the commencement of the service. An MDA gives us the ability to act quickly and decisively within specific guidelines without the time consuming need to refer to you for instructions each time an investment is made. These services have a Limited Power of Attorney and Authority to Operate under facilities within BT Wrap & Macquarie Wrap platforms. Please note these facilities do not authorise us to open new accounts, withdraw funds, or contribute new funds to your investment.

The agreed investments are clearly outlined in the MDA Contract.

What are the significant risks associated with using the MDA Service?

By authorising us to make changes to your investments without seeking your prior authority, you cannot claim we were not acting on your behalf. Provided we act within that authorisation, our acts become binding on you. Therefore, it is important you understand what we are authorised to do and carefully read and understand the activities that you are authorising us to perform on your behalf.

How can I give you instructions on how to exercise rights relating to the financial products in my portfolio?

Generally, the financial products which we invest in on your behalf do not have any additional rights or entitlements attached to them. If a right was to materialise, our authority under the MDA contract will also permit us to exercise any rights relating to financial products in your portfolio assets without reference to you. If you do not wish for us to have this authority, please let us know as this may affect our ability to offer the MDA service at the price quoted. You can however instruct us how you wish to act in regard to any specific financial product or right in writing by letter, email, or fax. Your adviser may accept your instructions by phone. In some instances, your adviser can only accept written instructions from you, and they will let you know when this occurs.

Our postal, facsimile and email contact details are contained at the end of the FSG that this MDA insert forms a part of.

Do I have to enter into a contract for you to provide MDA Services?

Yes. As of 11 December 2004, to receive MDA services you must first enter into an MDA Contract. This contract will set out the terms and conditions of the authority and also the investment program, which sets out how your money will be invested.

Will the agreed investments, the MDA Contract and compliance with the Law?

Where this is relevant, the agreed investments set out in the MDA Contract will comply with the law. The relevant law is Division 3 of Part 7.7 and Division 2 of Part 7.7A of the Corporations Act.

The contract will also contain:

- Statements about the nature and scope of the discretions we will be authorised and required to exercise under the MDA Contract
- Any investment strategy that is to be applied in exercising those discretions
- Information about any significant risks associated with the MDA Contract
- The basis on which we consider the MDA Contract to be suitable for you, and
- Warnings that the MDA Contract may not be suitable to you if you have provided us with limited or inaccurate information relating to your relevant personal circumstances and specify that the MDA service may cease to be suitable for you if your relevant personal circumstances change.

Who is responsible for reviewing the investment program?

We are responsible for reviewing your investment program. We will review your investment program at least every 13 months.

Do you provide custodial or depository services for my portfolio?

We do not provide custodial or depository services. Either you will hold the investments in the portfolio, or the custodian nominated for BT Wrap or Macquarie Wrap will hold them for you.

Is there a cost for the MDA Contract or the MDA?

No

Do outsourcing arrangements apply to the MDA?

In the event that we recommend a Self-Managed Super Fund (SMSF), and you don't have an existing relationship with an accountant who provides SMSF administration services, we will outsource this service. Our current provider is SMSF Alliance. We select providers after reviewing the market to identify those that are suitably qualified and commercially competitive. We work closely with them and constantly monitor their performance.
